

The BCPS continues to receive complaints about the disability tax credit, both in terms of companies pushing parents to apply for a child/youth who does not qualify, as well as the onerous process of filling out the form and subsequent questions from the CRA. The CPS has guidelines for filling out the form - please click here to review them.

And the BCPS has developed a letter template that pediatricians can provide to parents whose child is unlikely to qualify.
